Playing Carpet, 2026 recycled fabric materials

four variable modular circular segments

Boden Norrbotten Sweden

Playing Carpet is a drawn perimeter that engages with the archetype of the circle, evoking an imaginary dimension. It embraces variability as a basis for multiple interpretations. The use of precious waste materials reflects an interest in how meaning shifts through different uses, engaging with the idea of the unfinished.

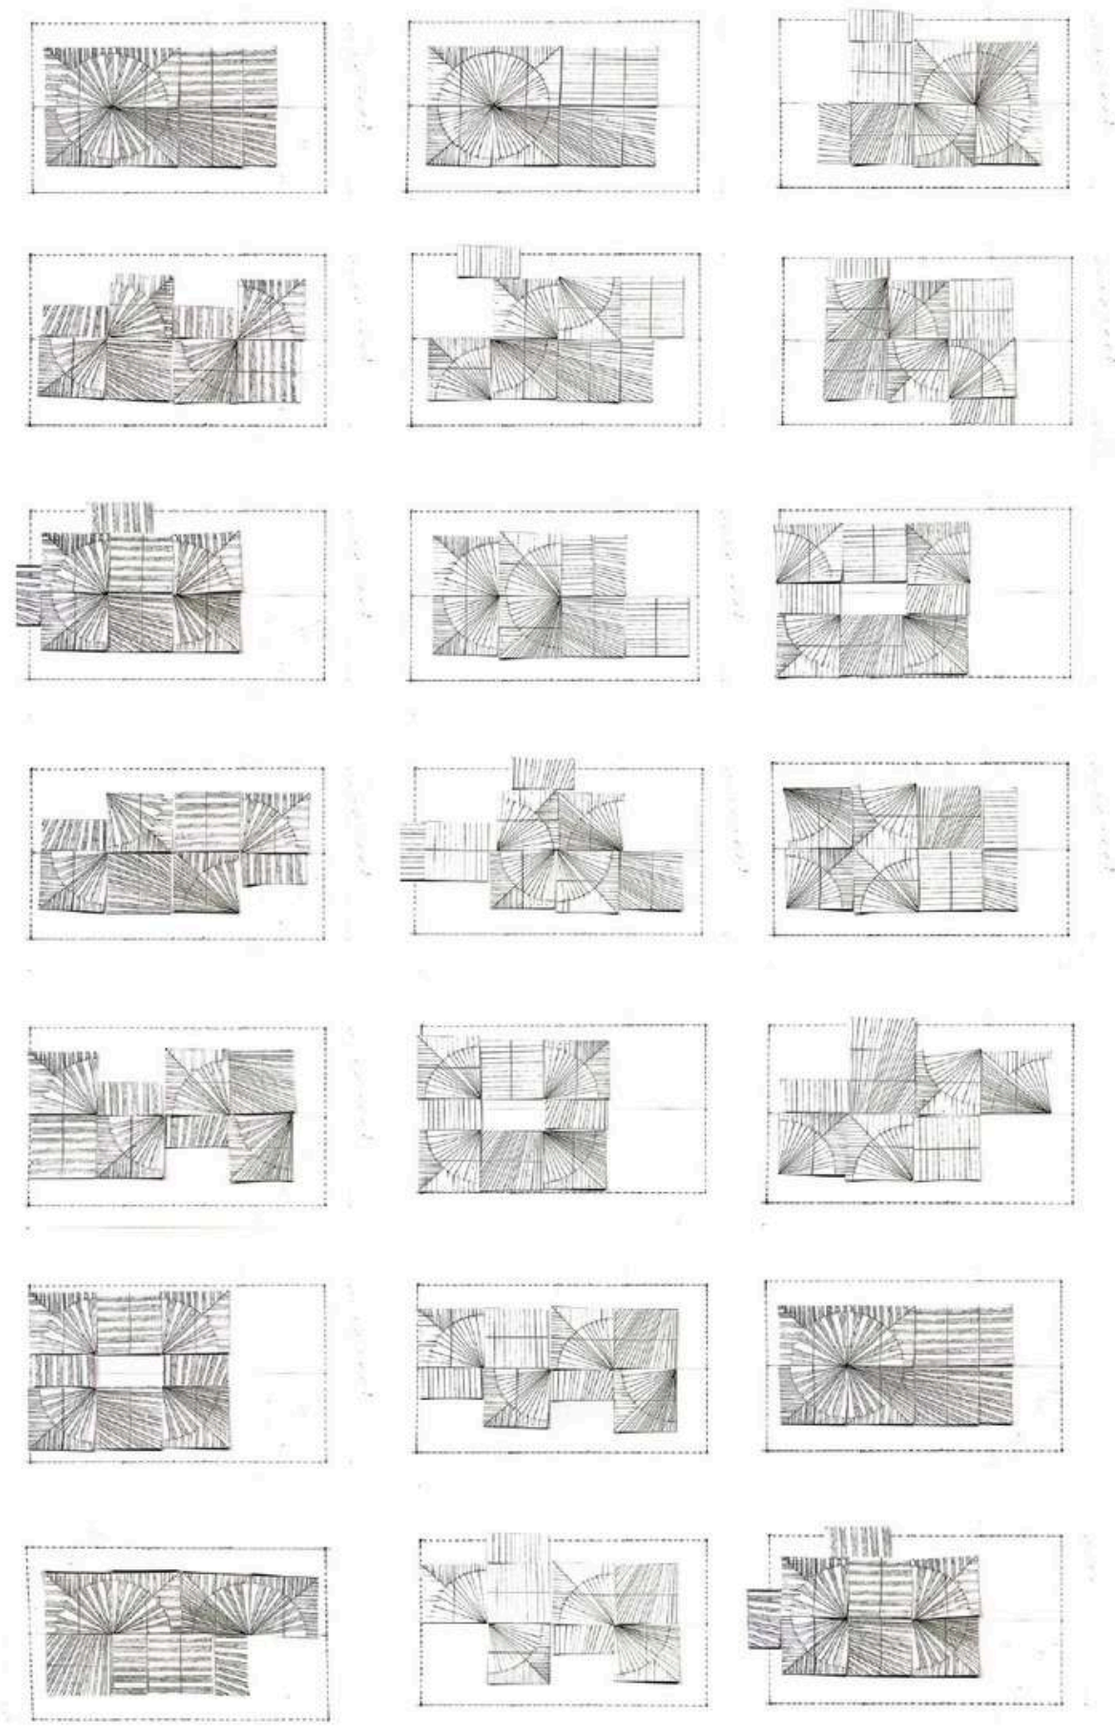

Playing Carpet är en ritad avgränsning som förhåller sig till cirkelns arketyp och framkallar en imaginär dimension. Den rymmer en variation som grund för flera tolkningar. Användningen av värdefulla restmaterial speglar ett intresse för hur betydelse förskjuts genom olika användningar och relaterar till idén om det ofullbordade.

The installation evokes the shape of blueberry leaves, transforming them into possible seating, playful components, or fragments of an open-air theatre. The surfaces are arranged around a small square, suggesting a place for gathering and pause.

Installationen för tankarna till formen av blåbärsblad och förvandlar dem till möjliga sittplatser, lekfulla element eller fragment av en utomhusteater. Ytorna är arrangerade runt ett litet torg som antyder en plats för samling och vila.

cm. 200 x 200 x 250
Bologna Italy

The sculptures that evoke petals are variations of modules, groupings of organic shapes. In these light compositions, I recall Pascali's forms and Matisse's collages. Although these basic structures are not covered in colored fabrics, the reflections of the environment color them. They are reliefs dedicated to vitality, play, and lightness.

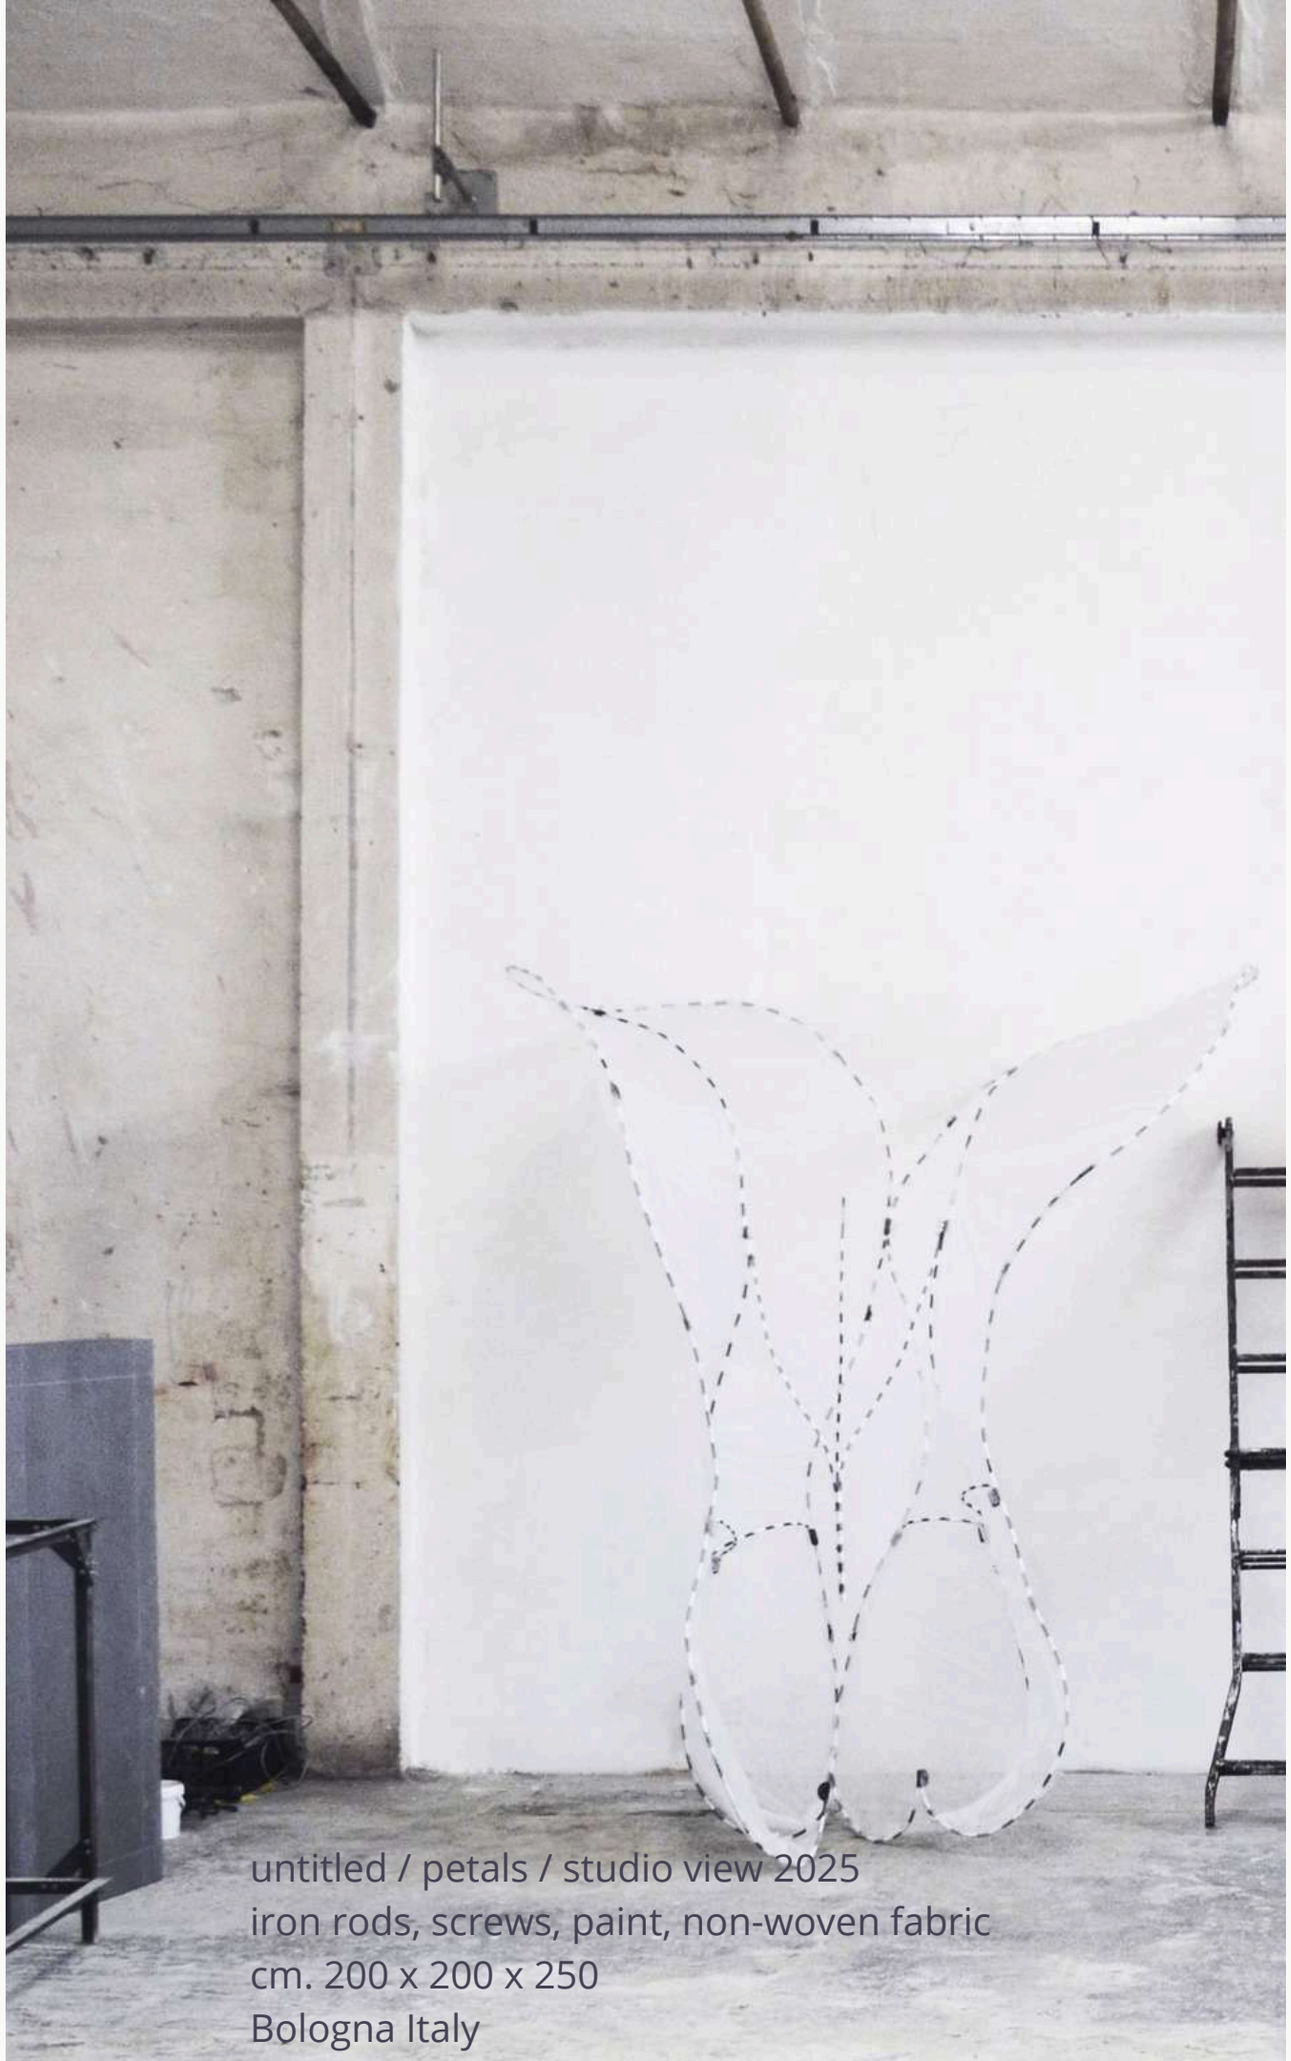

Le sculture che richiamano i petali sono variazioni di moduli, raggruppamenti di forme organiche. In queste composizioni leggere, rievoco le forme di Pascali e i collage di Matisse. Nonostante queste strutture basiche non siano rivestite di tessuti colorati, i riflessi dell'ambiente le colorano. Sono rilievi dedicati alla vitalità, al gioco e alla leggerezza.

The paintings leaning against the wall evoke a game called “trust game”. It is, in fact, a diptych composed of two paintings that I have partially erased, I have also removed some of the primer, but at the same time, the pigments are still visible in the background. I was intrigued by the relationship between the impersonal and a personal dimension. The gestures of repetition and folding are present in these works, which belong to a series I started in 2022.

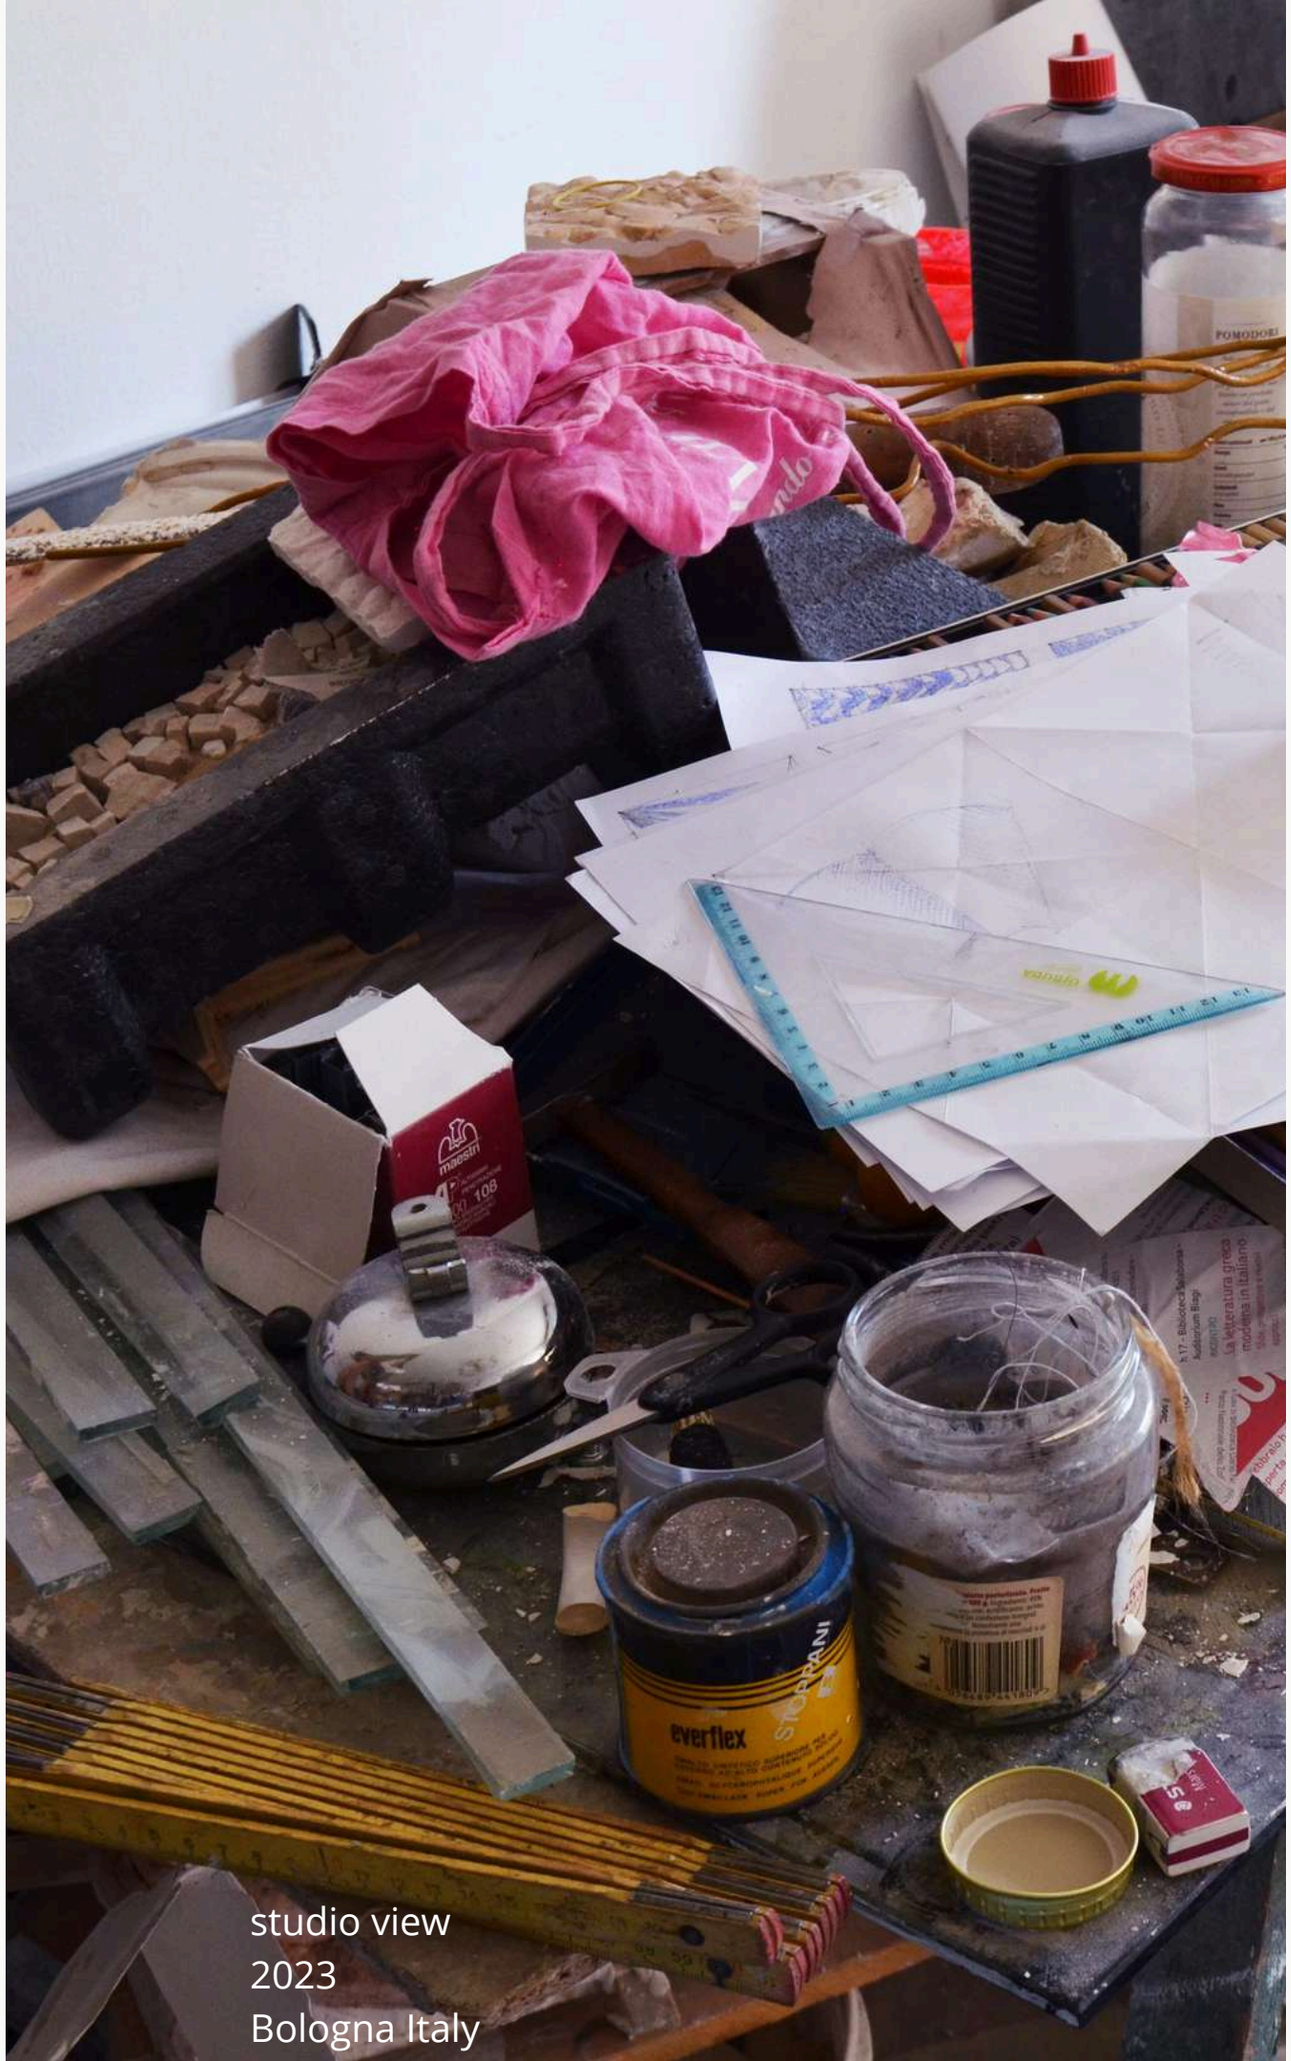

I quadri appoggiati alla parete evocano un gioco che viene chiamato “gioco della fiducia”. Si tratta infatti di un dittico composto da due dipinti che ho parzialmente cancellato, rimuovendo in parte anche l’imprimitura, ma allo stesso tempo sul fondo si vedono ancora i pigmenti. Mi incuriosiva questo rapporto tra l’impersonale e una dimensione invece “personale”. I gesti del ripetere e piegare sono presenti in questi lavori, che appartengono ad una serie che ho iniziato nel 2022.

A conflicting definition of a point. One splits into two.
A composition made of gypsum and graphite oscillates between an overture and a closure, evoking immobility and recalling a scission.

Una definizione conflittuale di un punto. Uno che si divide in due. Uno, molteplice, due. Una composizione in gesso e grafite oscilla tra un’apertura e una chiusura, evocando immobilità e nello stesso tempo ricordando una scissione.

‘Via D’Azeglio 42/a’ A site-specific project that involves the ‘taking’ of a part of the gallery floor, which becomes sculpture, fragment of a whole, from where it still emerges as a significant formal singularity. The Gallery is the dwelling of images, dwelling of art. Mihály Mór Kovács thus continues, with a sculpture that proposes itself, also, as a sketch for other larger realizations, his own discourse on the architecture of dwelling and the morphological possibilities of its materials.

La Galleria è abitazione delle immagini, abitazione dell’arte. The artwork appears introverted and poised between figuration and plasticity. The curvature distinctly defines an interior and an exterior. The exterior is smooth and neutral, while the interior is rough and textured like a mosaic. It is almost like an “archeological fragment” preserved within the shell of contemporaneity.

text by Romano Schnabl

L’opera appare introversa e in bilico tra figurazione e plasticità. La curvatura definisce nettamente un interno ed un esterno. Liscio e neutro l’esterno; scabroso nel ruvido mosaico all’interno. Quasi un “frammento archeologico” custodito nel guscio della contemporaneità.

In the works that are part of the series of folded paintings (dipinti introversi), my interest is focused on the wall that hosts the works. Usually, we need some distance to look at a painting or a picture, while in this case the attention is focused on this reciprocal hospitality between the painting and the wall. Thus, a dialogue is created in this narrow space encompassed by the object-painting, which invites us to approach it. All of this arises from a sort of hesitation as I am intrigued by this strange relationship between host and guest.

Nei lavori che fanno parte della serie di dipinti piegati (introversi) il mio interesse è rivolto alla parete che ospita i lavori. Di solito abbiamo bisogno di una certa distanza per guardare un dipinto o un quadro mentre in questo caso l'attenzione si concentra su questa ospitalità reciproca tra il quadro e il muro. Si crea così un dialogo in questo spazio stretto inglobato dell'oggetto-quadro, che invita ad avvicinarsi. Tutto questo nasce da una sorta di esitazione in quanto mi incuriosisce questo strano rapporto tra ospite e ospitante.
